

Missions in America Need Your Support

More than 50% of all Orthodox priests in the U.S. must work a secular job just to keep food on the table.

Mission priests in North America, particularly, are often assigned to parishes which are not able to provide adequate financial support.

They struggle to take care of their own families, cannot sustain a robust parish life, and miss opportunities to share the Orthodox faith.

The funds of generous donors to Share the Faith allow us to continue to do the work that we do so that more souls may be brought to Christ and more people may find comfort in the Lord.

SHARE THE FAITH
Orthodox Christian Mission To America

98% of the population in North America is unaware of the spiritual treasures available in the Orthodox Church

REACHING NORTH AMERICA

A substantial financial base is necessary to get a mission priest sent out by an Orthodox diocese. This means there is a disproportionate advantage for missions to thrive in wealthy areas while low-income areas struggle to keep parishes open.

At Share the Faith we know how important it is to reach everyone in America with the fullness of the Orthodox faith, that's why we fund mission priests. Our fund mobilizes Orthodox missions so that every soul might be saved.

Those Who Hunger & Thirst

Your donation goes a long way when it comes to serving those in need. By supporting mission priests and parishes, your support will reach the spiritually hungry who are in:

- Mission parishes
- Low-income areas
- College campuses
- Nursing homes
- Hospice care
- Hospitals
- Prisons
- Unsheltered conditions

Give With Confidence
